RECENT SCAM INFORMATION

Look carefully at the email, check where the email is coming from, how it is signed...

"I never sign my name that way. So that's the key.

Plus I never solicit money for personal business. We are trying to see what the diocese can do to protect priests from identity theft.

So with AI these fraudulent behaviors are going to increase especially since my name and information is public. We need to educate the public on discerning lies from truth. In the meantime, most people who know their priest won't fall for these things or will at least contact the staff to confirm the illegitimacy of the email. That is also why we want to be cautious with social media and facebook. Thanks for keeping an eye out!"
